POSTED JUNE 20, 2021

Dear USM Community,

This Friday, Chancellor Malloy has granted University of Maine System employees an additional day off in recognition of the hardships endured during the pandemic.

This day provides a welcome opportunity to reflect on the challenges we have overcome, the sacrifices we have made, and the courage and commitment our students, faculty, and staff have demonstrated in the face of unprecedented challenges. On behalf of the University, I want to again extend my gratitude for the flexibility and determination exhibited by so many in the USM family since March 2020.

This has not been an easy time, but our collective shoulders were strong and we stood shoulder-to-shoulder to provide students with the best possible learning experiences. Let me recognize two individuals whose tireless efforts were essential to seeing us through the challenges. Our Director of Health Services, Lisa Belanger, who is retiring this week after years of dedicated service to the University, finished her career with unprecedented demands upon her. Under these conditions, she showed us that leadership requires compassion, skill, wisdom, and a sense of humor. Thank you, Lisa. Secondly, let me thank our Associate Vice President of Student Affairs, David Rousseau, as he chooses to move on to his next adventures, for his devotion to our students and his staff. David brought to us so many gifts of thoughtfulness and dedication and is beloved by so many. Thank you, David.

Maine's outstanding volunteers recognized by Gov. Mills during ceremony, on Roll of Honor

BDN by BDN Community July 6, 2021

Gov. Janet T. Mills and Volunteer Maine, the state service commission, celebrated 306 volunteers who have served communities across the state during a year overshadowed by the ongoing pandemic.

Luc Nya, of Saco, was named 2021 Maine Volunteer of the Year during the 35th annual Governor's Awards for Service and Volunteerism recognition ceremony, held virtually on Monday, June 22.

"I am greatly honored to have been selected as the Governor's Volunteer of the Year," said Nya. "To all the volunteers out there, I say keep up the good work, and for those who are still considering it, look around you for the opportunities to make a difference abound."

Nya, honored for his service as the volunteer chair of the University of Southern Maine Board of Visitors, helps New American students navigate the barriers faced at the beginning of their respective higher education journeys. Nya is one of six individuals or teams to receive a competitive award.

The 204 adults and 77 youth who have been named to the 2021 Maine Volunteer Roll of Honor were also recognized during the ceremony. In total, these individuals contributed 185,258 volunteer hours to communities around the state. Adult recipients were recognized in the June 29 edition of the Bangor Daily News. Volunteer Maine does not publish the Youth Roll of Honor due to privacy concerns.

"Every year the Governor's Service Awards recognize those who exemplify the spirit and service of our state," stated Mills. "I can think of no one more fitting to receive these awards than you folks. On behalf of the 1.3 million people of the great State of Maine, I thank you."

Monthly Missive, June 2021

POSTED JUNE 28, 2021

Dear USM Community,

This Friday, Chancellor Malloy has granted University of Maine System employees an additional day off in recognition of the hardships endured during the pandemic.

This day provides a welcome opportunity to reflect on the challenges we have overcome, the sacrifices we have made, and the courage and commitment our students, faculty, and staff have demonstrated in the face of unprecedented challenges. On behalf of the University, I want to again extend my gratitude for the flexibility and determination exhibited by so many in the USM family since March 2020.

This has not been an easy time, but our collective shoulders were strong and we stood shoulder-to-shoulder to provide students with the best possible learning experiences. Let me recognize two individuals whose tireless efforts were essential to seeing us through the challenges. Our Director of Health Services, Lisa Belanger, who is retiring this week after years of dedicated service to the University, finished her career with unprecedented demands upon her. Under these conditions, she showed us that leadership requires compassion, skill, wisdom, and a sense of humor. Thank you, Lisa. Secondly, let me thank our Associate Vice President of Student Affairs, David Roussel, as he chooses to move on to his next adventures, for his devotion to our students and his staff. David brought to us so many gifts of thoughtfulness and dedication and is beloved by so many. Thank you, David.

Thank you all.

Now let's take a look at the many achievements and accomplishments of our students, faculty, and staff over the last month.
